

Digital Security for Consumers

The partnership between USA Identity Recovery and Aura has provided both companies the opportunity to provide world class protection for consumers' identity, finances and tech devices throughout many diverse industries across the U.S. Using the latest technology such as IBM Watson® AI, we can scan, detect and alert when threats occur. Monitoring consumers' home title, car title, and personal devices provides added security.

Car buyers provide a significant amount of their personal information as part of the purchasing process. Unfortunately, cybercriminals seek out this data and steal consumers' car and home titles, fraudulently acquire their tax and unemployment benefits, and drain their financial accounts. We provide consumers and their families with a digital security solution that's simple ... so it's easy to stay safe on all fronts.

The average consumer's digital activity

The new standard in digital security. Traditional identity theft protection solutions focus narrowly on consumers' "digital footprints" by providing alerts after their information is exposed by a breach or found on the dark web. These solutions are fragmented, overly technical, and complex — leaving consumers confused and giving them a false sense of security.

We have redefined digital security. Putting the user at the center of everything we do, we are the only provider that has designed an all-in-one solution to offer protection for financial, credit, identity theft, malware, ransomware, scam sites, and other online threats. We focus on the user experience and features that provide the industry's strongest protection where consumers need it the most.
